Nebraska Hymn
for the University of Nebraska-Lincoln

Music and Lyrics by
UNL alum Kate Schrader

My heart lies in the Heart-land where the spirit dwells deep within. The noble few, and the noble who strive to live with integrity! My pride lies in the Heart-land where the honor swells deep within. The noble few, and the noble who strive to live with integrity! My pride lies in the Heart-land where the honor swells deep within. The noble few, and the chosen few, and the chosen who need the call of their destiny! Nebraska!
Nebraska, Yea, the Scarlet and Cream shall be the Heart of the Heartland, Yea, the Scarlet and Cream shall be the Heart of the Heartland. Nebraska, where the future will always be in the halowed halls of the ivy walls that will stand through eternity. Nebraska, where the future will always be in the halowed halls of the ivy walls that will stand through eternity. Nebraska, where the future will always be in the halowed halls of the ivy walls that will stand through eternity.

and always home to me. Nebraska, where the future will always be in the halowed halls of the ivy walls that will stand through eternity. Nebraska, where the future will always be in the halowed halls of the ivy walls that will stand through eternity. Nebraska, where the future will always be in the halowed halls of the ivy walls that will stand through eternity. Nebraska, where the future will always be in the halowed halls of the ivy walls that will stand through eternity.

and always home to me. Nebraska, where the future will always be in the halowed halls of the ivy walls that will stand through eternity. Nebraska, where the future will always be in the halowed halls of the ivy walls that will stand through eternity. Nebraska, where the future will always be in the halowed halls of the ivy walls that will stand through eternity.
